Project for a young person.

Write down a long list (5,000?) of possible "Black Swans" for the next 10 years. Events now generally reckoned to have chance less than 1%, say.

Post on web. Wait 10 years. How many happen? how many others happen that you didn't think of?

Empirical evidence!